- Generate figures and tables, and draft manuscripts and posters for presentation or publication.
- Use statistical software to conduct advanced statistical analyses.
- Regularly communicate and collaborate with investigators to advance project aims.

2018 Teaching Assistant for Spatial Analysis III: Spatial Statistics
Johns Hopkins University School of Public Health Biostatistics Department
Baltimore, MD

- Attended every class session and was available to answer student questions during class or via email.
- Graded problem sets, including detailed comments regarding grading decisions, and entered grades into gradebook.
- Attended office hours and worked with students who came in seeking help.

2017 – 2018 Applied Epidemiological Researcher
Johns Hopkins University School of Public Health Epidemiology Department
Baltimore, MD

- Research project focused on cervical cancer care among women in Peru.
- Helped to design a Knowledge, Attitudes, and Practice survey that was implemented in Iquitos and Lima, Peru.
- Conducted field research in Lima.
- Analyzed GPS data in ArcGIS and R to assess the burden of accessing cervical cancer care in Lima and Iquitos, and quantified clustering of cervical cancer screening use.

2017 – 2018 Data Manager
Multicenter AIDS Cohort Study (MACS)
Baltimore, MD

- Cleaned participant data collected in semi-annual study visits and entered data into summary files for distribution within the data center.
- Used matching techniques to select specimens to be shipped to investigators from the study specimen repository.
- Kept careful documentation of project and programmatic decisions for later reference.

2016 – 2017 Data Abstractor

*Johns Hopkins University International Vaccine Access Center
Baltimore, MD*

- Systematic review of pneumococcal vaccine uptake and efficacy worldwide.
- Abstracted data in a comprehensive review of published observational studies and clinical trials on pneumococcal conjugate vaccine (PCV) immunogenicity and impact of currently licensed PCV products.
- Entered abstracted information into DistillerSR systematic review software.

2015 Epidemiological Researcher

Statens Serum Institut Department of Infectious Disease Epidemiology Copenhagen, Denmark

- During a summer internship, generated reports on the utilization of microbiology lab tests by the Danish population, as captured in the real-time Mikrobiologidatabase.
- Delivered a presentation of results to the Infectious Disease Epidemiology Department.
- Documented programmatic decisions to allow for continuation of research once my internship ended.

2014 – 2016 Biological Researcher

*Bucknell University
Lewisburg, PA*

- Research project focused on the etiology of White-Nose Syndrome in Myotis lucifugus bats.
- Helped care for live bats.
- Extracted RNA from wing samples.
- Analyzed ultraviolet images of bat wings using Cellprofiler 2.1.0.

2012 – 2016 Presidential Fellowship Researcher in Sociology

*Bucknell University
Lewisburg, PA*

- Analyzed data in projects that primarily focused on Latinx migrants to the United States.
- Designed and led a project exploring remittance patterns captured within Mexican Migration Project data.
- Designed and led an investigation using NHIS data into the association between race/ethnicity and U.S. nativity on the uptake of colorectal cancer screening in the U.S.
